The expansion in the domestic component of the money supply was caused by increases in both domestic credit and non-credit related balance sheet items of Afl. 161.5 million and Afl. 10.9 million, respectively. The rise in the non-credit related balance sheet items was mainly due to increases in “Shareholders’ equity” and “Accounts receivables and prepayments”, and clearing transactions.

The increase in domestic credit was caused by an expansion in the net claims of the banking sector on the public sector (+Afl. 59.9 million) and a rise in the claims of the banking sector on the private sector (+Afl. 101.6 million). The higher net claims of the banking sector on the public sector resulted from increases in gross claims (+Afl. 85.1 million) and government deposits (+Afl. 25.2 million).

The higher claims of the banking sector on the private sector were caused by expansions in loans to enterprises (+Afl. 91.6 million), housing mortgages (+Afl. 17.2 million), and a decrease in consumer credit (-Afl. 7.7 million).
